

Sisters-in-Script announces our 2011 Self-Publishing Grant which will be awarded to a woman who is self-publishing her first manuscript.

Please send your responses (250 words or less) to the three questions on page two of this announcement along with your completed manuscript on a CD, an annotated Table of Contents, and four hard copies of your 10 favorite pages of text to:

Susan Marc Lawley, Ph.D.
Sisters-in-Script
303 Holly Lane
Cedar Grove, NJ 07009

on or before June 15th, 2011 (postmark date.)

Winner will be announced in November of 2011.

The winning author will receive up to a $1,000 grant, payable to the publisher of her choice upon execution of a signed contract.

All genres and themes are welcome.

Sisters-in- Script is a 501c3 not-for-profit organization devoted to women who labor with words.

(*All pages should include author name and contact info.
Pages will not be returned so please do not send originals!)

Sisters-in-Script Self-Publishing Grant Application Questions:

1. Why is this writing project important to you?
(Tell us the story behind the story – what inspired the project?)

2. Describe the audience you are trying to reach?
(Share with us who will benefit by reading your work or enjoy it most.)

3. What will self-publishing this book mean to you?
(Sisters-in-Script views self-publishing as an “act of empowerment.”
As part of your response, please react to this sentiment.)
